The Park to Playa Vision

In 2000, the "Park to Playa" vision was first articulated as a seamless trail connecting urban residents with the natural coast. The Park to Playa Trail is a 13 mile trail network connecting the Baldwin Hills Parklands to the Ballona Creek Bike Path, through the Ballona Wetlands and ultimately linking to the beach bicycle path near Marina Del Rey.

A feasibility study and wayfinding plan was completed in 2011 through the collaboration of 13 public agencies and public input through three community meetings and online and in person surveys. Efforts are now underway to complete construction documents and environmental analysis.

Come Learn About the Design Process and Share your Ideas

During the first three workshops we heard your ideas on where the trail should go within the parks, what connections to park facilities and community destinations should be made and what types of amenities make for a fun and enjoyable trail experience. Please join us to learn about the trail design process, receive a design update and share your ideas.
