Project Objective: The proposed grant will be used to plan, design, permit, and implement capital improvements at Ed Davis Park in Towsley Canyon, Santa Clarita Woodlands. The improvements to the underutilized area behind the pool will create a new gathering space that can be used for hosting public programs and by the community for events. The new facilities will also serve to protect existing facilities, and extend their useful life, by distributing use more evenly around the site.

Towsley Canyon Park Grant Request - Additional Information

Project Objectives: The proposed grant will be used to plan, design, permit, and implement capital improvements at Towsley Canyon Park. The improvements include conversion of an underutilized space to create a new ranch-style gathering area. A shade structure, improved paths of travel, security fencing, and screening between the area and visitor parking will be implemented to create an enjoyable usable space. A small wooden arbor previously existed in this area but was destroyed in a wildfire. The new shade structure will be larger and more durable but still in a rustic style.

This area, located behind the lodge and pool, offers the best opportunity to provide accessible amenities for a wide range of visitor abilities, and can easily connect to the accessible restrooms already in place. The area will be used for community events and public interpretive programs available to community members from underserved and disadvantaged areas of the greater Los Angeles region. All amenities will be designed to incorporate the latest technologies for water and energy conservation. The work will be completed with a combination of in-house labor and contractual services.
